

MERRY CHRISTMAS

To All the Ladies of the Isles,

For a fun, feminine Christmas get-together I'm arranging a Christmas Tea at The Johnston House in Mars, PA. It is scheduled for Saturday, December 5th. If you have never been there, you are in for a lovely tea in a beautiful house. The Christmas decorations are exquisite, the scones, tea sandwiches, and desserts delicious. Everything is served with pretty china dishes and a pot of tea of your choice. Afterwards you can browse through the many beautiful items available for purchase throughout the house. The price of the tea is $25.00 (includes tea, tax, and gratuity). Each person pays individually when you are finished. Of course you can invite a relative or friend to come along if you wish.

The Johnston House has a huge following, and I know from experience that Christmas reservations are filled very quickly, so I need to know if you would like to go by October 23. I know that seems a short notice, but If I wait longer it will be difficult to schedule a large group.

I hope many of you will come and enjoy each other's friendship at "A Christmas Tea".

Thanks, Marie Claypoole
